

Track 1973-74

(FRONT ROW) Reggie Slaughter, T.H. Pifer, Steve Smith, Troy Arnold, Tommy Farris, Bob Carden, David Countiss, Randy Peters, (SECOND ROW) Timmy Long, Doug

Quesenberry, Walter Todd, Marty Hayes, Stuart Pratt, B.C. Clark, Chuck Webb, Ricky Clark, Chuck Eaton, Mike Heatherington,

Keith Dickerson (BACK ROW) Coach David Wright, Tommy Lyons—Manager, Brent Thorpison, Mark Jones, Mac Bowles, Eddie

Bratton, Steve Jarrells, Tim Lancaster, Steve Meadows, Cliff Pack, Ricky Casey, Terry Covey.

D.H.S. Spring Tracksters Perform Admirably

Spring, balmy skies, and warm weather have always meant Track practice at Dublin, and 1974 was no exception. Favored by an exceptionally mild March, Duke Tracksters began running, jumping, and throwing, practicing for Spring meets.

Distance runners ran round and round the track, down Giles avenue, out old Route #11, and back to D.H.S. via Maple Street. Sprinters synchronized their "starts" with the pistol, hurdlers raced through the barriers again and again, and Dublin Heavyweights threw discuses and shots repeatedly. Pole vaulters experimented with various poles and holds, while high jump and broad jump contestants practiced to gain new distances and heights.

Bob Peek, Billy King, Rick Casey, and Steve Meadows were Dublin's chief hopes for record-breaking performances on the Track circuit. This added impetus made Spring Track 1974 even more exciting at D.H.S.

Rick Casey displays shot put muscles.

Clifton Pack just clears the high jump bar.

Chuck Eaton soars to top the pole vault bar.

